Not illustrated. 1873 Excerpt: ...section, but, after passing some four miles further, the land is mostly 0 used for stock raising, and where where we saw large flocks of sheep and herds of cattle scattered over the plains. The report ob,-5 tained at the station is: Tons shipped to date 240 g On hand in warehouse 250 Jg Expected to come in 5,000 jBQ-----Ju Total tons 5,490 Twelve miles further on we arrive at Red Bluff. Distance one hundred and thirty-five miles from Sacramento city. The road exC/5 tends to Redding, thirty-five miles from this point. Red Bluff isa nice W little town, but the soil in this vicinity is what is called red-land, and is only adapted to grazing. Near the river is a strip of very CO good land. There is no wheat of any account raised here far ship-- ment, nor on the line of road beyond. After remaining here over Z night, we returned to Sacramento, and stopped over Sunday at the Grand Hotel, H. D. Rowley, proprietor. This is a first-class house ea in all respects. 2 We will now sum up our investigations, and place them in a 1 more condensed form. In giving the number of sacks we have reOS duced them all to a uniform weight of 120 pounds each.
