Heathrow Cyber Services is the Nigeria based offering of Heathrow Training Services UK, a cutting edge training and educational resources company. Our strategic alliances with key training companies in the UK have provided the unique platform to facilitate numerous courses with many experienced and qualified facilitators. We are able to provide custom made training to suit the needs and requirements of any establishment. This can be done in conjunction with our consultants. We also have a repertoire of capacity building courses which will help to transform the different levels of management to a 21st century ready team with measurable competitive advantage. An example is PRINCE2, a UK government written course recognised and used worldwide as the best practice in projects management. We are the authorized training organisation (ATO) for PRINCE2 in Nigeria. We are able to organise training both locally and internationally at our prestigious training centres in the UK, South Africa, USA, and Nigeria. We can also deploy online training where needed for a particular department or group of department
