

Carol Ann Deans' life had fallen apart! She had lost her job, her home, her lover, her son, her health and didn't particularly care if she lost her life. Her whole world had crumbled and all that remained was isolation and pain. And then she discovered her desire to survive. What followed was a journey of discovery. Her outer world had diminished, but her inner world blossomed and she found herself soaring to other worlds, having adventures full of love, fear, joy, victory and even out-of-this-world sex. She opened her third eye, had spontaneous Kundalini experiences and journeyed to past lives; she meditated, visualised, travelled beyond the physical and even had a live "spirit" operation in Brazil. Life would never be the same again. Carol's relationship with writing also blossomed on this journey; she wrote to clear out the unwanted emotions and chaotic thoughts, document her development and learning, and as an exercise of therapy, leading to clarity and enlightenment. The result is not a New Age how-to, but a personal account of one woman's amazing quest for healing.
