

Chandara, with its twin moons, is one of the most beautiful planets in the galaxy. A peaceful world where humans and giant panthers have lived side-by-side for over a thousand years. Best friends Zan and Lexa, one human, one panther, are on the verge of becoming adults when tragedy strikes. Lexa, along with the rest of Zan's family, has been kidnapped by an unknown enemy. For the first time in his life, Zan is truly alone. The ancient prophecy has begun to unfold and it threatens to destroy all of the giant cats and the humans on the planet. The Ancient Ones have decreed that Zan and Lexa are the only pair capable of stopping the prophecy and to save both the panthers and the humans of Chandara. Only with the help of Lexa can Zan hope to defeat the coming evil. He must find his best friend and their parents and save them before it's too late. Without knowing where to look, he will be forced to travel to the other territories on Chandara to search for his family. Chitraka, the land of the cheetahs is a land dominated by females with little use for males. Ligeria, the land of the ligers is a male dominated society that lives to fight and kill. Either land would be a dangerous place for a young pair of Pantherans, but without Lexa, his giant panther, Zan has little hope of succeeding. Still, he must try. For the first time in his life Zan will have to be a warrior and ambassador if he hopes to find his family and stop the evil that threatens the planet.
